In 2023-2024 season (from April 2023 to March 2024), the Aichi Prefectural Art Theater (APAT) will present wide variety of programs that everyone can enjoy in a safe and secure manner.

In Main Theater, we will present a new performance by our Artistic Director Teshigawara, a classical ballet masterpiece, "Don Quixote" by the National Ballet of Japan, and "Revisor" by the dance company led by Crystal Pite.

In Concert Hall, we will present the subscription concert by the "NHK Symphony Orchestra, Tokyo," and a special organ concert by Matthias Maierhofer whose performances are highly acclaimed at overseas music festivals.

Following last year, "Family Program" in Golden Week holidays (in May) and summer vacation (in July and August) includes "Open House" that will offer free tours of the Concert Hall, popular introductory organ concerts, "The Organ Night & Day 2023," and the Australian artist group "The Last Great Hunt" with a story about friendships between a puppy and the people he meets, "New Owner." Not only at APAT but also within the prefectural tours, we will offer many programs that will make it easier for families to come to the theater.

Our year-round cutting-edge "Mini Theater Selection" series will feature the 21st AAF Drama Award Winning Commemorative Performance and a collaborative project with Dance Base Yokohama (DaBY) that develops professional dance environments and trains creators.

In addition, we will promote a project called "Theater and 70,000 Children Project" that invites local students to visit the theater, programs that raises awareness of multicultural communities and learning for foreign residents; and programs of HR development that helps both staff and artists gain newer and higher skills.

We hope that you will come and visit us at the theater again next season.

Aichi Prefectural Art Theater Event Schedule

The information provided is current as of November 7, 2022. Content, performers, etc., may be changed due to unavoidable circumstances. For the latest information, such as the details of the performance and the release date, please see the website and flyers.

A festival for families, centered on Golden Week and the summer vacation. There will be plenty of events for families to enjoy, so even newcomers to the theater will feel welcome. In addition to performances, there will also be theater tours and workshops for kids.

The "Mini" in Mini Theater Selection refers to the Mini Theater. A generic term for a group of pioneering and experimental programs held in the Mini Theater. We have carefully selected pieces from the same era that we would love everyone from Aichi to see.

A performance for the Theater and 70,000 Children Project. Elementary, junior high, and high school students are invited. For details on this project, see the back page.
