Saburo Teshigawara's First Stage Performance in Aichi after Winning the Golden Lion for Lifetime Achievement at the 2022 Venice Biennale

Dance Concert by Saburo Teshigawara: Live Music & Dance

The Aichi Prefectural Art Theater will present a Dance Concert by Saburo Teshigawara: Live Music & Dance “Heavenly Gardens” at the Concert Hall on September 16 (Friday) and 17 (Saturday), 2022.

An original program developed and produced by the Aichi Prefectural Art Theater, the Dance Concert series was launched in 2016 to present a collaborative live dance and music performance by world-class artists at the Concert Hall. This is the sixth show of the series.

“Heavenly Gardens” is a collaboration of dancers and a cellist, and will be presented as a world premiere. The concept of this show was first conceived in 2021, and the cellist who will appear was announced in April 2022. Rehearsals at the Aichi Prefectural Art Theater are scheduled to start in early September 2022.

The dance performance will be given by Saburo Teshigawara, Artistic Director of the Aichi Prefectural Art Theater, who was awarded the Golden Lion for Lifetime Achievement in Dance at the 2022 Venice Biennale, and Rihoko Sato, who has flourished as a choreographer and artistic collaborator in recent years.

The musical part will be played by Jonathan Roozeman, a talented young Finnish-Dutch cellist and award winner of the International Tchaikovsky Competition, who has played with the Mariinsky Theater Orchestra and the Frankfurt Radio Symphony Orchestra among others.

The pieces to be played in the show include the Suites for Solo Cello by J.S. Bach and the Sonata for Solo Cello by Kodály. Please come to the theater and enjoy the unparalleled live dance and music performance.
